

On Mar 27, 2016, at 11:55 AM, brainardjc@aol.com wrote:

Got it. Won't ask again.

Sent from my iPhone

On Mar 26, 2016, at 8:43 PM, chrispauley22@gmail.com wrote:

No!

Sent from my iPhone

On Mar 26, 2016, at 9:02 AM, brainardjc@aol.com wrote:

You know me--I don't like giving up when I get an idea so, I laid out how Rome COULD work. It could be our special secret:)

Saturday evening, June 11th--we leave on a non stop from Chicago to Rome. There won't be Carmel people leaving from Chicago. It is a nine hour flight and we jump ahead six hours so we would get to Rome about 9 am Rome time on Sunday, June 12. I have personal points (I put everything I buy on my Amex and let the points accumulate). It will be business class so we get good food, wine and seats that turn into flat beds:) We would spend Sunday exploring Rome. The conference goes from Monday, June 13 through Friday June 17. I have to speak of course and go to some of the sessions but certainly not all of them. I pay no registration fees because I am speaking. You can explore by yourself or come to the sessions if you choose. I need to Stuttgart, Germany on Friday the 17th. You can fly back on Saturday, June 18th and only miss one week at work. I will go on to Stuttgart and come back on Wednesday, June 22 and be in on the office on Thursday June 22. We will be returning five days apart from one another. No one will think twice about it here. Anyway, that could be the plan. I am not using city money for any of it. We use my points for both flights and I will have a hotel regardless. Life should be an adventure and there's no one I would rather explore with than you.

From: chrispauley22@gmail.com

Date: May 15, 2016 at 11:53:45 AM EDT

To: brainardjc@aol.com

Subject: Re:

I will respectfully decline. It looks like a phenomenal vacation.

Sent from my iPhone

On May 13, 2016, at 6:38 PM, brainardjc@aol.com wrote:

The "Number One" resort in the Midwest, Canoe Bay, has availability for Memorial Day--northern Wisconsin--about seven hours drive. <http://www.canoebay.com/> Five star--totally isolated lodge in the north woods on a lake. Hiking, canoeing, golf, massages, fireplaces in all the cabins--check it out.